OPPOSITION TO MR. JACOBS. THE LUGISLATURE'S ORGANIZATION

HINGING ON HIS CANDIDACY. sany and the Anti-Monopolists Unafterably Opposed to Him-His Election Hope-less Unless by Republican Vetes-Lam-many's Demands Rejected-A Cancus Called ALBANY Jan. 1 .- The organization of the Legislature, according to the Tammany men at all live in the neighborhood of Seventh ave-ment the following the special point of the point is a strong of the point of the p ure will be invited to attend.

Mr. Hubert O. Thompson said, after the conference terminated, that they were in favor of giving to the Tammany men, if they came into the caucus, all and even more than they were entitled to; but nobody had the right in a wance and entitled to; but nobody had the right in advance of caucus action to parcel out patronage and places that members alone had the right to distribute. He could hardly believe that the Tammany members could refuse to attend a regularly called Democratic caucus. Mr. Thompson said he was in favor of going even further, and of assuring the Tammany members of his treatment in the caucus; but as to ostracizing particular men, or pledging to give away certain places in advance, no one had the right to do those things, and they should not be done.

Another member of the conference, when told that Mr. K-arney had said that the only point of difference was Jacobs's candidacy, said that such was not the fact. "They have not only demanded," he said. "that Jacobs shall not only demanded." he said, "that Jacobs shall not be a candidate, but they refuse even to say that they will support Homer A. Nelson, should be be a candidate. They demand that the cersable of the senate and the patronare of that office shall be given to them; that they shall name the Assembly Sourcent-at-Arms and a majority of the Committees on Cities and Enfronts in both Houses. This certainly is a modest demand for a facand Enligads in both Houses. This cortainly is a modest demand for a faction that has not enough representatives in the two Houses to make up a majority of the commuttees they wish to control. The Tammans men want the spoils. Their talk about Jacobs is a mere pretence for effect outside."

The candidates for the Speakership are vigorously pushing their canvass tenight. The fact that there is to be free caucus action and no deal in advance has become generally known, and all the candidates for the various places are working with renewed activity. The fact that there is no become generally known, and the candidates for the various places are working with renewed activity. The crowd in the Delayan corridors thickens hourly, and there is much confusion of tongues and ideas, and consumption of fluids. Various rumors are affect at midnight as to all sorts of combinations and deals. One freshly started rumor is that Jacobs is to withdraw, and that here is to be peace, harmony, unit-monoroiv, and a fair distribution of the spoils. Another story is that Kelly has put on his war paint, seized his tomahawk, and started for

ENDING WITH A TRAGEDY.

The New Tear's Celebration of a Party of Colored Men.

A party of colored men started out on Saturday night to see the last of the Old Year and the first of the New. In the party were Isane and Philip Wilroy, brothers: Samuel Thomas or Samuel Sutton, by both of which names he is known, and Theodore Ray, sometimes called "Dutch" Ray, Such of these men as have homes members of the Legislature as Democrats and to treat them as they would other members of the party. They think that a caucus should be called in the regular way, that the Tammany members should be received on an equal footing with others it they attend the caucus, and if they stay away that they should take the consequences of their act. The party, these members say, should take the consequences of their act. The party, these members say, should take the consequences of their act. The majority should rule, and six or eight members of the Legislature should not be permitted to dictate to their sixty fellow members. This feeling so generally prevails that it has practically put an end to trading and blekering, and it looks at this writing as though caucuses would be held to-morrow night without any prearranged programme. Chairman Manning of the Democratic State Committee J. Powers, ex-Assemblyman Kesnan, Sentore J. Powers, ex-Assemblyman Kesn Ackerman of 5 Montague terrace, with whom he had been for several hours. Almost immediately after they went down stairs a pistol shot was heard in the basement. Ackerman came up stairs and took a sent at one of the tables. A water went down and found Peterson lying at the foot of the stairway suffering from a pistol wound in the left side of the ablomen, where, as physicians autsequently ascertained, a buillet was lodged.

The revolver with which the shooting was done was a 32-calibre Smith & Wesson, and becomes to be ablomed to ackerman. He and Peterson were taken on the Washington street police station, where Peterson made conflicting statements to Capt. Campbell as to the manner in which he had been shot, first saying that Ackerman did it and then that he did it himself. He was removed in the ambulance to the Long Island College Hospital. After learning that his like was in serious peril, he called the attendant physician to his bedside and stated that he was accidentally shot by Ackerman while Ackerman was showing bedside and stated that he was accidentalizable by Ackerman while Ackerman was showing him his revolver.

Ackerman, who is held pending inquiry, gave the same version of the shooting. The two men had not met before batterday night.

Afterward John H. Ackerman, a wealthy resident of the Heights, the father of the prisoner, appeared before Justice Weish, and made application to have his son released on ball. Bustriet Autorney Catlin and Assistant District Autorney Catlen and Assistant District of them went with Justice Weish to the heapital, where Peterson receased the statement which he had already made to the effect that the shooting was accidental. Mr. Simpson then announced that Mr. Pentecost would make an address. Mr. Pentecost threw off his ulster and came forward. "Before I speak to you," he said. "Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins will sing a dust successful by the ansecdote which Mr. Simpson has just narraned. It is the story of a man returning after his mother's death to the old nonextend from which ecdote which Mr. Simpson has just narrated, it is the story of a man returning after his mother's death to the old homestead from which he strayed long ago. Strolling through the house he finds the cradle in which he was sung to sleep by his mother, and visions of his mother and her songs come to him."

Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins sang this dust Mrs. Stebbins sturing at the appropriate time the words of the mather's songs which were recalled to the son's memory.

Mr. Pentesons then made an address, in which he protested against the materialism of to-day. "People poon-poon the idea of a God, and deny the Scriptural accounts of God's visits to the earth. They say God must have been seen when people were only menseys, or overs, or something else. They want us to be animated vegetables—candless that burn down to the socket, and then, pish-ish-ish, go out never to give light again.

After his address Mr. Pentecost announced that Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins would assist as often as they could and in their absence Mr. Lie.

"Mr. Ide." he said. "will make you sing, and Mr. and Mrs. Stebbins will make you listen."

Mr. Simpson asked those who wanted to form a choir to come at 7 P. M. next Sunday for a half hour's rehearsal. The services closed with a benediction.
